WHO?

This program is designed to train aspiring latent print examiners and new laboratory trainees the ability to complete a comprehensive training program, through competency, to conduct casework examinations!

WHAT?

The program will instruct the trainee in the various components of the examination process. Starting with introductory topics, and progressing towards complex examinations.

WHEN?

The program is designed to be completed on the pace of the participant. All materials are delivered remotely, and the trainee may complete the modular program either according to their personal or laboratory schedule!

WHERE?

All modules can be completed through a distance education format. Exercise are done at the discretion of the trainee and submitted to a secured location for review by the trainer.

HOW?

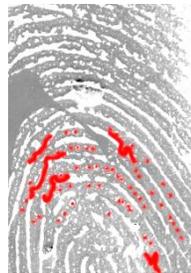

The Training Program is designed to be completed through the application of ten (10) sequential modules. The modules include: Recorded Lectures, Required Readings, Written Exercises, Practical Exercises, Analysis and Comparison Exercises, and Moot Court Exercises.

WHY?

In this program, the trainees will gain an understanding of the underlying fundamental principles of latent print examinations, to include in-depth explanations of the examination method, development techniques, digital imaging, legal standards, and the articulation of conclusions.
